Gary,

I talked to Greg (IKON) this afternoon and pursuant your request, Greg will address the lab packs in lieu of the original issues outlined in my request for funds.. I will work this out with the Trustee when I talk to him and hopefully determine exactly the amount of funds available to address other issues outlined in your overview. If the trustee only has $40k remaining we will only be able to address the Lab packs.

Concerning available funds ($40K) I only have knowledge of what is told to me by the Trustee. D. Askanase is semi retired and only goes to the office one day a week; however, I will be in touch with him on Monday (15th) and will attempt to get clarification as to the available funds. I have a call into IKON (Greg) to discuss his outrageous lab pack cost proposal and have inquired with two (2) other vendors for a cost proposal to address the lab packs.

Mickey:

I understand your situation. So if I get this correct, the funding available is:

$40,000 (remaining on IKON contract)

$40,000 (Trustee still has available to him)

So is there $40,000 available or $80,000 ?

I would love for IKON to be able to do the ceramic, lab stuff, and totes/drums/misc containers. The lab stuff will be tedious work because they will have to do compatibility on stuff before bulking. There is alot of stuff.

If we work something out where they do all the bulking, and cleaning and disposing of the containers and glassware and we do the disposal of the bulked materials would that make a difference? I am sure we can work something out. As you know, I want the Estate as they should to spend all the money it has addressing issues on the site.

Thanks

you are probably right; however, as you know I have nothing to do with how the Trustee allocates funding other than insuring the activities are in compliance. Regardless, I am here 24/7 should you need any information.

Mickey:

Could you find out if this includes cleaning/disposal of the empty containers after bulking (ie. drums, totes, 5-gallon containers and smaller containers). Obviously, if they dispose, they can have the metal value of the containers but I would preferrably like these removed off site and disposed or recycled if possible with the money available.

Thanks

See attachment concerning Dynamic. According to discussions with the Trustee this afternoon he has only $40K in funds remaining. IKON submitted their cost proposal to address the issues outlined by you and have have submitted my recommendations to the Trustee. The items highlighted in yellow on the attachment is what I recommended to the Trustee to retain IKON to address because IKON's lab pack cost proposal is outrageously high. Your comments would be greatly appreciated.
